A proven way to collect data

Key litigation information may be hiding in a myriad of digital locations. When you work with our team of forensics experts, we offer customizable Electronically Stored Information (ESI) collections and ESI management options.

Our forensics team is comprised of licensed Private Investigators (PIs), who will collect ESI with speed and reliability whether it's on-site, remote, or by using one of our patented tools such as Remlox™ Remote ESI Collection Tool; powerful collection methods that create a complete, encrypted forensic image of the physical hard drive, or Remlox™ Cloud that offers simple, targeted data collection via the cloud.
